Rushville Swain who Eloped with Muncie Girl Comes to Grief at New Castle

NOTHING DOING FOR THEM

When They Tried to "Sneak by" the Henry County Clerk—were Saving Car Fare

Diligently, we have searched today among Rushville's eligibles in an endeavor to locate the young man who left here Saturday to marry a Muncie girl. The only clue available is in the following story from the New Castle Courier:

A daintily dressed Jansel of Muncie and a blushing young man from Rushville applied for a marriage license at the clerk's office late Saturday evening. The young lady came from the Magic City on the afternoon train. The young man came up from Connersville at 11 o'clock. The two met at the station, gave the spectators a very fair imitation of what an engaged couple does after an absence of two weeks and then made their way to the court house.

"How old are you?" said the clerk. "Just 19," replied the fair applicant. "Where do you live?" was the next question.

"I live in Muncie," came the answer.

"Well, I'll have to forego the pleasure of issuing you folks a license, because the State laws prohibit such a proceeding," stated the clerk. The bride-to-be went up in the air and so did the young man from Rushville. Then they cooled off and tried to coax the clerk, then begged and pleaded with him, but to no purpose. After arguing for about an hour the two gave up in despair.

The names were not secured by the clerk, but he is of the opinion that it was a run-away couple. The two left the city at 6:56 presumably for Muncie, the only place that a license could be legally issued, because of the bride's residence in Delaware county.

They say that that Rushville boy and Muncie girl thought they would "split the difference" in railroad fare by getting married here.

FORMER PASTOR WAS ARRESTED

First United Presbyterian Minister here, Victim of Plot—
Arrested for Libel

Rev. A. T. Hutchinson, who was the first pastor of the United Presbyterian church in this city, and who is now engaged in publishing a Prohibition newspaper in Tennessee, is having a strenuous time.

A few nights ago he was arrested for libel, the warrant being held until after he had gone to bed and then served by a unfriendly constable, so that the minister could be taken from his bed and put in jail. But Mr. Hutchinson made them release him on bond. No time or place was specified in the warrant stating when the libel appeared.

He writes that he has been in battle with the drink curse for over thirty-two years, and has been "egged" and stoned, but never before arrested. No doubt he is making it hot for some of the liquor dealers in the community, where he resides, but his friends here believe he would not become so enthusiastic in his work so as to lie about anyone.

MANY FARMERS GREET PURDUE SOIL SPECIAL

Lecturers Address Over One Thousand Farmers Along the C., H. & D. Saturday

Of all the stations along the C., H. & D. line visited by the Purdue Soil Improvement special, Morristown had the largest crowd of farmers out to greet the instructors. There were about three hundred to meet the train at that place. There were 1364 farmers who heard the lecture between Cottage Grove and Indianapolis. The special was run from Indianapolis to Dana today.

T. A. Coleman accompanied the train yesterday and today and was one of the most enthusiastic of the lecture party.

OIL SPRING HAS BEEN LOCATED

Only a Few Miles South of Famous Buena Vista
Oil Fields

FLUID FLOWS FREELY

Will be Hard Matter to Get Buena
People to Believe in Project

The following is taken from the Batesville Herald: "On Sunday morning three men arrived on the early train and hired a horse and buggy to drive to Hamburg. They explained to the liveman that they were going to investigate a spring on the farm of Henry Welshoff, from which it was reported oil was flowing. On their return they reported that indications for oil were favorable. There may be great possibilities for Hamburg should another Beaumont well be found."

Hamburg is a little village only four miles south of Buena Vista, and while it would be hard to convince the citizens of the duped little village to believe it because of the trickery of O'Connell in salting the Buena well. However there ought to be something in those old hills of Franklin county.

Although many do not have any faith in the Buena fields, yet an Indianapolis firm has leased a number of acres of land and will make the test.

AGED PIONEER LAID TO REST TODAY

Settled in Decatur County Almost Sixty Years Ago—Well Known Here

After months of continued illness with paralysis, George Tarplee, one of the best known residents of Decatur county, passed quietly into the last long sleep at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He is survived by four children, Mrs. Robe and James and Edward Tarplee, of Rush county, and John, of Decatur county. Mr. Tarplee was for many years a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge of Clarksburg. The funeral rites were held this afternoon at the late residence at 1:30 o'clock at Greensburg.

The deceased was born in Alcester, England in 1833, and came to alien shores when seventeen years of age. He settled in Decatur county in '51 and in July, 1854, was united in marriage to Elizabeth Arnold, now several years deceased.

HAZZARD AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

Famous Henry County Historian is Now at the Nation's Capitol

WANTS TO BE POSTMASTER

He has Apparently Passed up the Indiana Delegation for Time Being

George Hazzard, the Henry county historian, whose name is familiar in the Rush circuit court and who has been sojourning with friends for the past year in different parts of the country has once more crossed the continent from Washington State to Washington D. C. He says he just must keep posted on what his Henry county friends are doing, and in order to do so he got a Washington friend to subscribe a few days ago for a New Castle paper and George himself furnished the dollar to pay a few weeks on the daily.

It is said that Mr. Hazzard is looking better than ever and has all evidences of prosperity. He has come to Washington to see what the national lawmakers are doing and incidentally to deliver a few books. He has delivered a number of copies of the history of Henry county for which advance payments were made one year ago, and came the time to deliver the goods.

Mr. Hazzard has apparently passed up the Indiana delegation for the time being and is spending most of his time nowdays hobnobbing with members of the Washington State delegation.

He won't talk about his alleged history of Washington State country. He says he is certain that the country is going to elect a Democratic president next fall, but he is having a hard time trying to decide whether he wants to be postmaster at New Castle, or Walla Walla, Washington.

There is an attachment suit filed in the Rush circuit court against Hazzard, venued here from Henry county.

LARGE AUDIENCE WILL GREET THEM

Parland-Newhall Company will fill Last Lecture Course
Number Tonight

No doubt a large audience will greet the Parland-Newhall company tonight at the Main Street Christian church as this is an excellent company and it is also the last number.

This company has won the applause of the people wherever they have gone and to those who had the pleasure of hearing them before they need no recommendation.

When they appeared in this city before every number was a gem, and encores were the rule. The male quartette captured the hearts of the refined audience from the start, and the bell ringing pleased them immensely.

SHELBYVILLE PREACHER WAS SECRETLY MARRIED

Sunday evening when it was announced that the Rev. Daniel Hawkins, of Shelbyville, had taken unto himself his fifth wife, who was Mrs. Josephine Smith before her last marriage, the residents of that city were greatly surprised. The groom is 68, and the bride 60. The marriage took place at Shelbyville last Monday, but was kept a secret for almost a week.

Rev. Hawkins has several friends in this city.

GREAT PLANS FOR FIELD DAY

To be Held at Fair Grounds in Connection With Educational Day

MUCH INTEREST AROUSED

Among Teachers and Pupils of the Different Schools in the County

That the body of the child should be developed along with the mind, has long been conceded, and yet the common schools have made practically no efforts in the way of systematic or effective physical training. It is believed by County Superintendent W. O. Headlee that the child's playtime and other odd moments outside of the school hours could be utilized in this direction, and in response to a very general demand, a few plans and suggestions have been submitted to the teachers of Rush county with the hope that they may at least get started in some systematic training of this kind this year, and prepare for more thorough work in the future.

In taking up this training, teachers must do it with the greatest caution. Important as is the training of the body it must only supplement, never take the place of, mind development.

It is therefore recommended only in so far as it can be made to contribute to mind and character. All unfairness of whatever nature must be kept out of the exercises; and while the pupils will surely be influenced by contests and stimulated by the desire to excel, teachers must keep constantly before them the one purpose—Physical Training.

It is recommended by Mr. Headlee that each township have some of these athletic contests in connection with the Township Educational Exhibit at the close of the school. Those pupils who lead in the different contests will be permitted to represent the township in the County Field Day, which will be held in connection with the Educational Day, June 6th. The Athletic exercises will be held in the forenoon, commencing promptly at 9 o'clock. The exercises will all be held at the county fair grounds.

There will be three classes of contestants as follows: Class A.—All pupils eleven years old and under. Class B.—All pupils twelve years old and under fifteen. Class C.—All pupils fifteen years old and upwards.

No person will be permitted to enter in any of these contests who did not attend school in Rush county the larger part of the present term (1907-08).

Following is a list of the exercises and games in which pupils may enter: Jumping, running, throwing weights, bicycling, chinning, holding at arm's length, tug of war, drills and lifting.

In addition to these exercises, the following games, together with others that may be suggested later, will be played at the County Field Day: Shinnay, each township to furnish more than ten players, basket ball, tennis, and base ball.

Girls will be permitted to enter in any of these contests that may seem proper for them to enter. In such cases girls will compete with girls alone.

EXPLOSION OF ENGINE CAUSES MILL TO CLOSE

An accident, caused by a gas engine explosion today will compel the Clark mills to close down for several days. The crank shaft of the engine was demolished by the force of the explosion.

An Illinois swain, while saying farewell to his sweetheart, was so startled by a shout from the girl's father that he fell off the porch, breaking his collar bone. He asks $2,000 damages. If he wins, this will establish a precedent which will mean millions a year to the courting industry.

SPRINGTIME HERE AT LAST

Best Singer on Earth is Boy
With his Bag of Marbles

BADLY WORN STOCKINGS

Boy Whose Mother will not Let Him Play "For Keeps" Not Popular

"Fust with you," "All right: fun or keeps?" "Keeps, of course. We aint no babies." "No rounsin nor drops in keeps." "Naw—Come on, two a crack." "Knuckle down, or plunks?" "Either way. What's ye scared of?"

The preliminaries all disposed of, a ring drawn and a shoe sole mark in the dirt for a taw line, the young marble fiends kneel on their badly worn stockings and begin the game. It is not the old-fashioned ring of their fathers that had somewhat the resemblance of a circle, that the modern day youngster wins or loses his "pedads or commies" in. It may be because Young America does not care to take the time necessary to trace a circle, so with his wire nail, carried for the purpose, he scratches half an eclipse on one side, then, turns and adds the other half.

Surer signs that spring is here than the elapse of the groundhog's six weeks of extra sleep, the arrival of the red breast and blue bird, the announcements of Rev. Hicks, or the appearance of the spring beauty, is the advent of the marble players and the stilt walkers. Weeks ago the tobacco sack of left-overs was searched for in the attic, and the "crockies and glassies" counted over, and the faithful taw—most likely a trusty agate, is polished. Everywhere about the streets of the city, boys are to be seen playing marbles for walking stilt. The "mamma-won't-let-me-play-for-keeps" boy is the object of derision on the part of his older or larger and probably less scrupulous companions. Most boys do not regard marble playing "for keeps" as a fair test of skill. The boy whose mother says "No", answers "Brother used to," and mother has to tell him that she was ignorant of the fact, if brother did.

The dealers have put in new supplies of marbles, and expect liberal purchases.

The men who live to be over ninety and die rich usually have a long list of eccentricities that the neighbors talk about.

EXTENTION OF TRACTION LINE

Reorganization Plan of I. & C.
Road Will Make Extension
Plan Possible

TRADE PAPER STATEMENT

Plenty of Money and Labor Now
—Deemed a Most Favorable
Time for Railroad Building

It develops that the statement published in the Daily Republican last week, regarding the reorganization of the traction line originated in the Indianapolis Trade Reporter, a financial and commercial journal. This takes it out of the realm of a mere newspaper story alone, and gives it a semi-official standing.

A well informed attorney, after reading the statement, was asked what he thought of the reorganization plan outlined.

"It seems all proper enough," he began. "Such deals are often carried out to simplify matters. If I understand it the five trustees simply propose, if given the power, to take charge of the property, and first pay all of the debts. This might be done in part with any cash that might be on hand, from current earnings and with money that they themselves might advance or could secure. That would mean the raising of the receivership."

"The next step would be to 'pawn' the road and equipment for money to make the extension. This certainly ought not to be hard to do. Counting the line to Greensburg they have about 125 miles of good traction property with which to secure means for the building of forty miles which would enhance the value of the lines now in use as soon as cars were running."

"There is more idle money now, seeking safe investment than probably at any time in the country's history and labor is more plentiful than at any time in ten years. It is my opinion that money to pay the debts is already in sight and that if the trustees are given full control the rest will be easy."

MAN CRAZED WITH DRUG WAS ARRESTED

Approached City Marshal Price
Demanding Five Tons of Flour and a Race Horse

"I'd like to have five tons of flour and two race horses," said a fellow last night approaching City Marshal Price. He did not know he was addressing an officer. The fellow seemed to be half dazed but from all outward appearances was not intoxicated. It is thought that he uses a drug.

Officer Price immediately placed him under arrest. He first gave his name as Deitrichs and later as Aikens. In a number of places the fellow went last night cursing and shouting and annoying people. He is still held in jail.

ROMAN CHARIOT WAS WRECKED IN RUNAWAY

The horse hitched to the Harry Kramer Roman chariot delivery wagon, ran away on North Harrison street this forenoon and partially wrecked the vehicle built along ancient lines.

TAKES HIS CASE UP

Mr. Ridder Goes Right to the President With His Complaint.

DIRECTOR OF THE CENSUS

Is Gravely Charged With Furnishing a Series of "False and Misleading" Official Figures.

President of Newspaper Publishers' Association Fires a Bomb In Fight Against Paper Trust.

New York, March 10.—Charges of official dereliction are made against S. N. D. North, director of the census, in a letter which has been sent to President Roosevelt by Herman Ridder, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' association. Mr. Ridder charges that in a letter written to Representative Dalzell on the subject of news print paper prices for a period of fifteen years, Director North

SIMON NEWTON DEXTER NORTH. gave a series of "false and misleading figures." He charges that the director failed to exercise diligence in seeking for information and that he used worthless and secondary sources of information.

"That letter has been used on the floor of congress as an 'official publication,' says Mr. Ridder in his communication to the president. "It was declared by Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee to be 'as accurate as accurate can be.'"

"I charge that the director of the census has issued in that letter a series of false and misleading figures, and that, whether intentional or not, he has served the purpose of a group of combinations which are aiming to add $60,000,000 per annum to the burdens of printers and publishers."

He points out that in Director North's letter there is a lapse of three years for the period from Jan. 1, 1897, to Jan. 1, 1900, when paper dropped to $32 a ton, or $18 less than the present asking price. Mr. Ridder says that in those three years thirty mills were merged into the International Paper company. The letters says, also, that "the lowest price appearing anywhere in that extraordinary compilation of the director of the census is $6 per ton in excess of the lowest price at which paper has been sold in New York," and that "no books of any large paper manufacturer will show such prices as are credited by Director North."

Tribesmen Severely Defeated.

Paris, March 10.—General Amado, commander of the French forces in Morocco, according to official advices received here, has followed up his previous advances in his campaign against the warring tribesmen by inflicting a decisive defeat on the Madrakas, the Mzabs, and a force of Mulai Haid's adherents, who came to the assistance of the tribesmen. The battle lasted from 6 o'clock in the morning until 7 o'clock in the evening. The Arabs suffered enormous losses, abandoning everything in their headlong flight. The French losses were very slight, considering the heavy combat and the nature of the ground.

Prince Helle Coming Also.

Paris, March 10.—Mme. Anna Gould, accompanied by her children, will sail on the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm, on Wednesday for Cherbourg for New York. She expects to remain in America for two months. It is reported that Prince Helle de Sagan also has made arrangements to leave for the United States. Recently it was reported that Mme. Gould had been married to Prince Helle de Sagan, but she immediately authorized an absolute denial of this.

Now Under Advisement.

Washington, March 10.—The special committee appointed by Speaker Cannon to determine whether there is sufficient ground for the impeachment of Lebbeus R. Wilfey, judge of the United States court for China at Shanghai, who stands accused of misconduct in office by Lorin S. Andrews and other American lawyers resident in Shanghai, have heard argument and now have the case under advisement.

APPLYING THE LESSON

Cleveland Setting About to Make School Buildings Safe.

Cleveland, O., March 10.—When twenty-one flower-strewn little white caskets were placed beneath the ground in Lakeview cemetery, Monday, the last of the 167 charred remains of children who lost their lives in the burning of the Lakeview school in Collinwood Wednesday last were laid to rest. The twenty-one caskets contained the bodies of the seventeen unidentified children and four that were claimed at the last moment. All were buried together in one big public funeral.

Earlier services were held in each of the eight churches in Collinwood. The parents of the unclaimed ones attended the church of their respective faith. Following this the public service was conducted by Rev. Gerard F. Patterson at the morgue. When the services were held all of the church bells in the village were tolled simultaneously. Also memorial services were held in all the Cleveland schools at the same hour.

At the coroner's inquest Fritz Hirt, the janitor of the ill-fated building, was exonerated from all blame by Coroner Burke. Late yesterday afternoon a public meeting was held by Cleveland city school officials, city officials and editors of the Cleveland daily papers. The school board was recommended to make immediately repairs to the present buildings, but it was not deemed necessary to close all of the school buildings until all repairs have been attended to.

Last night the school board decided to raze the Mayflower school building located in the ghetto district, at once, and erect a larger and modern fire-proof building in its place. Other schools were ordered closed in various parts of the city until fire-escapes can be built. Fire wardens will be stationed at all of the dangerous buildings, who will patrol the buildings until they are placed in an approved condition. The board also decided to issue bonds for $450,000 at once to make repairs. It was stated that it would require about $1,500,000 to place all of the city's school buildings in a perfectly safe condition. A committee was appointed to make a thorough investigation of all city school buildings and make recommendations to the school board.

Clash of Authority.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 10.—Notwithstanding an order of the building inspector to discontinue the use of schoolrooms on the third floors of buildings not provided with fire-escapes, these rooms were open Monday and school continued as usual. President A. S. Lindemann of the school board referred the order to the city attorney, who contends that the building inspector has no authority to issue an order under the city ordinances. Regardless of the opinion of the city attorney, Mayor Becker says he will see that the inspector's order will be enforced and a clash between the mayor and school authorities is expected.

Confined to Bed Twenty-Seven Years.

Upper Alton, Ill., March 10.—Captain Daniel Stewart, ninety-four years of age, is dead at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. John H. Diamond, after lying in bed twenty-seven years, during the greater part of which time he smoked a pipe. His death was the result primarily of injuries received in a steamboat explosion in 1855.

Signs of China's New Navy.

Pekin, March 10.—Financial representatives of no less than ten of the most important shipbuilding and armor manufacturing concerns of Great Britain, Germany and France are at present in Peking looking for contracts. This activity is induced by the belief that China is about to expend $50,000,000 in naval equipment.

Czar Spares Stoessel's Life.

St. Petersburg, March 10.—The czar has commuted the sentence of death imposed against General Stoessel for surrendering Port Arthur, to ten years' imprisonment in a fortress, and it is expected a full pardon will shortly follow.

Publication of Story of Alleged Jury "Fixing" Dismisses Brunaugh Case.

INDIANAPOLIS SENSATION

Another Turn In Asphalt Fraud Case That Causes the Hasty Abandonment of the Trial.

Alleged Attempt on Part of Defendant to Influence Jury Was Printed In Newspapers.

Indianapolis, March 10.—The trial of Harry P. Brunaugh, in the criminal court, on a charge of presenting a false and fraudulent claim against the city of Indianapolis in connection with the asphalt street repair contract last year, came to a sudden and dramatic end. The submission of the case was set aside and the jury discharged on the motion of the defendant, because of the publication of a story of an alleged attempt to lay plans to "fix" the jury.

The motion on which this action was taken was made by attorneys for Brunaugh, after long conferences between Judge Pritchard and the attorneys for the state. The motion said that there had been published an article, the headlines of which indicate that said article charges an attempt on the part of the defendant improperly to influence one or more of the jurors, concluding that the jurors, or some of them, could not have failed to see the headlines.

The case against Brunaugh stands now just as if it had never been called for trial. No steps have been taken toward having the case reset for trial, and nothing in that direction will be done at present. In the meantime Brunaugh will continue under his present bond. It is possible, also, that the case will never be tried before a Marion county jury.

SAID WOMAN ROBBED HIM

Statement of Man Who Died Soon After Staggering Into Hospital.

South Bend, Ind., March 10.—Reginald Post, whose home is in Pau, France, staggered into St. Joseph's hospital and died soon afterward of pneumonia. He said he had been robbed of $600 by a woman, but declined to reveal her identity or disclose his family ties, other than by saying he had a brother in the regular army. He told the doctor he came here from Indianapolis, but his statement could not be verified. The local authorities are investigating.

Robbed and Murdered in Montana.

Peru, Ind., March 10.—After the body of Harry Mumagh arrived in this city, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Blake received a letter from W. F. Murphy, who had been working with Mumagh at Missoula, Mont., stating that after Harry had received an express order calling for $200, in payment for labor in a mill, he went to the city to cash it, and on his return he was waylaid by two men, who beat him till he was unconscious, after which they robbed him and then placed his body on the railway track, where he was struck by a passing train and his skull fractured. He was removed to a hospital, where he died. His murderers were not apprehended.

Decatur Mayor on Trial.

Portland, Ind., March 10.—The impeachment trial of Mayor C. D. Coffee of Decatur opened in the circuit court in this city. Mayor Coffee was the first witness called to the stand for the prosecution in relation to accepting license fees and appropriating the same to his own use. He admitted that he had collected $55 in license fees and also $68 in docket fees, which he appropriated to his own use. Edward Green, the prosecuting witness, was then called and testified that he saw the mayor intoxicated on Aug. 9. Green testified that the mayor was drunk again Aug. 15, at which time he embraced three women on the streets of Decatur.

Look Out for Them.

South Bend, Ind., March 10.—Blank money orders stolen from station No. 129, Chicago, and raised to amounts varying from $50 to $125, are being passed on merchants and business men generally in northern Indiana, southern Indiana and eastern Illinois. A man and a woman are doing the work, going from town to town, making small purchases and tendering the money orders in payment, receiving the difference in cash. A general warning has been sent out.

Caught by Fast Train.

Osgood, Ind., March 10.—John Condon, an old and respected citizen of this place, was instantly killed by being struck by the B. & O. fast passenger train No. 4, as he stepped from the elevator of the Osgood Grain company to cross the railroad track. He leaves a wife and two sons.

Evansville, Ind., March 10.—The lower Ohio river continues to rise and is now a fraction over thirty-eight feet. It is expected the rise will continue for the next four or five days. The Wabash, White, Green and Pond rivers are also rising.

RUSHVILLE, INDIANA, MARCH 10, 1918

Don't forget the Republican county convention next Thursday, the 12th.

The big day—the Republican county convention—is drawing near. Let every Republican in the county take an interest and assist in selecting a good county ticket, one that will be sure to win.

The prospect of congress enacting very much legislation this session steadily fades as the session lengthens. Both parties, or rather the leaders of both parties, with a presidential election drawing near are careful not to do anything that will tell against them and they are maneuvering for position.

This is truly the age of cement and concrete. At one of the pumping stations in the Rand, near Johannesburg, South Africa, two fly wheels are in use, weighing 8000 pounds each and measuring fourteen feet in diameter. They have reinforced concrete rims which alone weigh about 6000 pounds each. The difficulty of transporting iron has led to the adoption of concrete.

From now on until Thursday the Republican county convention should be given considerable thought and attention. It is absolutely necessary to nominate a good, strong ticket, one that cannot fail to win. The Rush county Democracy are laying their plans for an unusually vigorous campaign this year, and they will make an unprecedented effort to carry the county. For this reason it will behoove the Republicans to be more than careful in selecting candidates for the ticket that is to win this fall.

It is worthy of note that the brutal and unwarranted attacks now being made upon the president's private character do not emanate from his political opponents or his political friends. Republicans and Democracy have nothing to do with it. The men who are guilty would say the same of Mr. Bryan if he were president as they are saying of Mr. Roosevelt and for precisely the same reason. It is all a part of that selfish, cold-blooded conspiracy in which many of the predatory wealthy class are engaged with the object of bringing about a reactionary popular sentiment against the president and all who hold his views on business ethics. The only thing they consider is the almighty dollar.

INDIANA POLITICS

BY ROBERT G. TUCKER

That the Democrats of the state propose to have a convention where there will be an element of uncertainty right down to the finish, is apparent in the returns received at the headquarters of the organization from counties that have elected delegates. Word received from Marshall county indicates that it will refuse to support Charles C. Conn of Elkhart, although it is in Conn's district. The county is for Thomas R. Marshall of Columbia City. The Democrats of Wayne county have given Rev. Thos. Kuhn of Richmond to understand that they will support him on the first ballot and then use their own judgment as to how they shall vote. Several counties in the Fourth district have instructed for Senator L. Ert Slack of Franklin. A number of counties have instructed for Samuel Ralston of Lebanon. The information coming from several southern Indiana counties is that Ralston will have a large following there. The Vanderburgh county delegation promises to support Frank Herring of South Bend for lieutenant governor and most of it will vote for Ralston, it is said. A majority of the counties, however, are sending uninstructed delegates. In Cass county several delegates have been instructed to vote against Moses B. Lairy of Logansport for the nomination for supreme court judge, although Lairy is a Cass county man. Kuhn has opened headquarters here, and it is likely that the other candidates will follow his example during the present week.

The report of the 248 state banks of Indiana on the call issued Feb. 14 by R. B. Ogletree, clerk of the banking department in the auditor of state's office, shows that they not only weathered the panic, but gained materially in resources. The available cash reserve was 34.2 per cent of the deposits, as against 31.7 per cent for the same period last year. The surplus of assets over money borrowed and indebtedness for deposits, was 24.74 per cent, as against 22.57 for last year. The total resources was $59,622,336.91.

Word comes from the Thirteenth district that strong efforts, and with prospects of success, are being made to bring Henry A. Barnhart, editor of the Rochester Sentinel, into the race for congressman. The movement in behalf of Mr. Barnhart took form immediately after his Indianapolis keynote speech. Robert E. Peters of Starke county may enter the race. His announcement is promised before the close of the week.

A special meeting of the state board of health is in session today discussing schoolhouse surveys which have been made by the board and to consider the question of condemning buildings which are unsanitary. Twelve school buildings have been examined by employees of the board and reports are now ready.

CURRENT COMMENT

American Rights in Russia.
Recently the state department at Washington declared officially that the United States dissents from Russia's well known views as to the criminality of those of her subjects who have or may become American citizens and the right of the czar to punish them when caught on Russian soil without his express permission. This is a decision following upon another of the same purport which has aroused protest in this country. Nearly a year ago the state department issued a circular to the effect that it would not "issue passports to former Russian subjects or to Jews who intend going into Russian territory unless it has assurance that the Russian government will consent to their admission." This circular further explained that a passport under such circumstances was a document tending to mislead the holder since it does not really protect from hardship and even imprisonment.

In the recent note dissenting from the Russian view the secretary of state added the warning that "an American citizen formerly a subject of Russia who returns to that country places himself within the jurisdiction of the Russian law and cannot expect immunity from its operations." It is made clear that the applicants for the passports take all the risk as to whether their return will be assented to by Russia. There seems to be a clash here between the international and the domestic law, and it will not be settled until there is a naturalization treaty between the United States and Russia.

The more the Japanese become acquainted with the resources of their part of the island of Sakhalin the better they are satisfied with the bargain that gave them possession of it. The fisheries are proving very profitable, and coal mines of value are being developed. The Japanese population now numbers 30,000, and during the fishing season it is much larger. The vigor displayed by the new occupants of Sakhalin indicates what will happen in Korea when Japanese energy has full play.

Among the fresh evidences of Spain's revived commercial activity is a report which states that Spanish trade with South America is rapidly increasing. In some lines of manufactures Spain has captured already the lion's share of the trade, and in other lines her enterprise and energy are making inroads upon the trade enjoyed by other European countries and by the United States.

The 108 young men who graduated from West Point last week may find "standing and waiting" to their liking, but it might be advisable for them to take a horseback ride occasionally to keep in good standing with the commander in chief.

A National Institution.
It was stated in the house of representatives at Washington the other day that mince pie and ice water are as bad as whiskey and that the law might as well proceed against the one as the other.]

Law, man, spare that pie!
Touch not a single crust!
At lunch it feeds the eye,
I'll stand by it or bust.
What though dyspepsia hides
Behind its contents mixed,
The nation's hungry eye
Upon it still is fixed.

What though most anything
Can go in it disguised,
Its weird, wild mystery
But makes it so more prized.
What though it swims in lakes
Of water leech down poured!
What though with horrid dreams
Its pastry tough is stored!

It is the dish we love,
Dear to the nation's heart.
Ah, what would hap should mince
Pie from our lunch depart?
So, law, man, spare that pie!
For laws are vain, I vow!
That pie I ate when young
I'll keep on eating now.

JOY OVER TRUANT'S RETURN.

Collinwood Schoolgirl Surprised Father Searching For Her Body.

Like returning from the dead, Helen Marks surprised her parents by slipping up behind her father and throwing her arms about his neck while he was prodding among the ruins of the Lake View school at Collinwood, O., for her body. The girl was sent to school as usual the morning the fearful disaster occurred. Instead she played truant and visited an aunt in the country and knew nothing of the fire until the next day.

Not returning to her parents, they supposed she had perished. The father could not find among the bodies recovered one he could identify as that of his daughter. In despair he was prodding about the ruins when the girl threw her arms about him and cried, "Guess who I am, papa!" Mr. Marks was nearly overcome with joy and emotion.

New Plan For Coaling at Sea.
W. W. McLaren of Ensley, Ala., an electrician, has submitted to the secretary of the navy a new scheme for coaling ships at sea. McLaren intends to have captive balloons attached to two ships, one of which is to be a naval collier and the other the vessel to be coaled. The balloon is to be filled with the coal from the collier and then moved over to the other ship by paying out the line from the collier and hauling in on the other vessel. When the car of the captive balloon is over the vessel to be coaled, a flap in the bottom of the balloon car is to be opened, and the load of coal slides down into the bunkers. Mr. McLaren says that his method is easier and quicker than the present way.

No Fears For America's Financial Future.

By Prince ANDRE PONIATOWSKI, French Authority on American Finance.

THE principal cause of the financial crisis in America lay in the DISPROPORTION BETWEEN AVAILABLE CAPITAL AND THE AMOUNT NEEDED BY THE COMMERCIAL, INDUSTRIAL AND MORE ESPECIALLY FINANCIAL ACTIVITIES OF THE COUNTRY. That this disproportion was brought about by an exaggerated expansion of business is quite probable, but certain economic phenomena have greatly contributed to create in the United States a situation for which the American financiers cannot be altogether responsible.

The scarcity of available capital had been felt in America for the last four years. In fact, ever since 1903 New York, as a financial center, has found it IMPOSSIBLE TO MEET THE NEEDS OF THE GREAT ENTERPRISES OF THE COUNTRY, notably the railroads, by absorbing their bonds at a normal rate of interest.

IN WHAT PROPORTION HAS THE INDUSTRIAL ACTIVITY OF THE UNITED STATES BEEN IMPAIRED? THERE WILL, OF COURSE, BE AN IMPORTANT SHRINKING IN THE VOLUME OF BUSINESS DURING THE FIRST SIX MONTHS OF THE CURRENT YEAR. IT IS TO BE HOPED THAT IT BE SO, BUT THE PURCHASING POWER OF THE COUNTRY IS INTACT.

One draws inferences from the SLOW RECOVERY after the panic of 1893. I was in New York at that time, and I cannot see any comparison between the United States in 1893 and the United States in 1907.

In 1893 the monetary circulation was $2,179,000,000, of which only $636,000,000 was in GOLD—that is, 29 per cent. In 1907 the circulation is $3,134,000,000, with $1,482,000,000 in gold, or 47 per cent.

In 1893 the balance of trade was on the debit side by $65,000,000. In 1907 it is on the CREDIT side to the extent of $447,000,000. The railroad earnings were then $1,208,000,000. Today they amount to $2,346,000,000, and in the last fourteen years the population has increased by 20,000,000. SO MUCH FOR THE COUNTRY. As regards the government, the surplus in 1907 amounted to $84,000,000, with receipts of $846,000,000, the interest of the public debt not exceeding $20,480,000.

A COUNTRY THUS FORTIFIED OUGHT TO BE ABLE TO FULFILL ITS DESTINY, WHATEVER MAY BE ITS EXIGENCIES.

Asked Her Sweetheart To "Be" For Watson

Rushville Traveling Man Writes From Ft. Wayne of Political Conditions in Northern Indiana

BY AD V. SPIVEY

I have been in the part of the State where Taylor and C. W. Miller claim the earth and all thereon. The towns visited are Goshen, Ligonier, Kendallville, Waterloo, Angola, LaGrange and some other smaller places in Northern Indiana. Everywhere I go Miller, Taylor, Hugh Miller and Watson are now being discussed with as much earnestness as to their capability to fill the great office for which they are aspiring, as will the two candidates for the presidency when that nomination is made.

Forming a conservative opinion drawn from various sources, Watson seems to stand with the masses as far ahead of his opponents up here as down in Central Indiana. I believe, without fear of contradiction that he is the second choice of seven-tenths of the Miller men (I mean C. W. Miller), and eight tenths of what Taylor delegates that are appointed.

Since Tom Marshall, of Columbia City, seems coming to the front as the Democratic nominee, almost every Republican concedes Watson is the one whom Marshall cannot trim up on the stump, for he bears the reputation for a great campaigner.

The value of Watson's campaign he is now making, to Rushville and Rush county can never be estimated, speaking along advertising lines. Every day I am asked [about Rushville, and away from home it is referred to as Watson's and Gowdy's town, and Uncle Jack has been of great value to Watson, for the memory of his former victories linger still in the minds of all.

Republicans, it seems everybody in Rushville (and to their credit) have written their friends and asked them to assist our candidate. A fine looking young fellow plucked me to one side in one of the towns mentioned, and said his sweetheart at Rushville asked him to be for Watson, and he wanted to know how the future governor stood with one of our substantial citizens, and if Watson would say a good word for him at the proper time, as he intimated his prospective or rather his would-be father-in-law was not particularly stuck on him. I promised him that Jim would do the right thing and that young man is on the delegation, and dollars to doughnuts, that vote goes to Jim. I only give this incident to show the deep interest Rushville people are taking in this campaign, and I firmly believe on April 3d we will send greeting everywhere that the governorship comes to us and to the already bejeweled diadem which Rushville and Rush county so modestly wears, will be added another of greater size and brighter luster than any that has come to us in a quarter of a century before now past, and with it greater responsibilities coming with a greater trust. But Rush county and Rushville citizens have never been weighed in the balance and found wanting; neither will they now.

STRONG ARRAY OF CANDIDATES

And Much Excellent Timber from Which to Make a Selection

OLD TIME CONVENTION

Will be Held Thursday as Candidates are Working Day and Night

The Rush county Republican nominating convention will open Thursday morning with the blare of trumpets and from the number of close contests for the various nominations a most interesting day of hard fought battles is promised.

It has been many years since there was such a strong array of candidates and such excellent timber to make a selection of, and one of those old time conventions will be in order.

As the Republican nomination in this county are virtually equivalent to election, the various candidates are leaving no stone unturned to further their candidacy along fair and legitimate lines. Good weather is promised and this will insure a large and demonstrative assemblage.

MISTAKE TO TRY TOBACCO RAISING

Declares a Decatur County Newspaper, Referring to the Agitated White Burley Craze

History repeats itself, says [the St. Paul (Indiana) Telegram. A few years ago the creamery craze, willingly boosted by interested parties, swept the country and left financial loss in its path. The tobacco raising craze is being agitated. We hope our farmers will "be wise" to the proposition and turn it down hard. It is a losing game in Indiana, as Rush and Fayette county farmers discovered to their sorrow.

Our One Minute Sermonette

Don't laugh at a drunken man reeling through the streets, however ludicrous the sight may be; just stop to think. He is going home to some tender heart that will throb with intense agony; some doting mother will grieve over the downfall of her once sinless boy or it may be a fond wife whose heart will almost break with grief as she sees the destruction of her idol, or it may be a loving sister, who will shed bitter tears over the degradation of her brother, shorn of his manliness and self respect. Rather drop a tear in silent sympathy with those hearts so keenly sensitive and tender, yet so proud and loyal that they cannot accept sympathy tendered them either in word or look although it may fall upon their wounded hearts as refreshing as the summer dew on a withered plant.

Prof. H. A. Howell, of Havana, Cuba, Recommends Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"As long ago as I can remember my mother was a faithful user and friend of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, but never in my life have I realized its true value until now," writes Prof. H. A. of Howell's American School, Havana, Cuba. "On the night of February 3rd our baby was taken sick with a very severe cold, the next day was worse and the following night his condition was desperate. He could not lie down and it was necessary to have him in the arms every moment. Even then his breathing was difficult. I did not think he would live until morning. At last I thought of my mother's remedy, Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which we gave and it afforded prompt relief, and now, three days later, he has fully recovered. Under the circumstances I would not hesitate a moment in saying that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and that only, saved the life of our dear little boy." For sale by F. B. Johnson & Co.

HIS COURTSHIP

By HELEN R. MARTIN,
Author of "Tillie: A Mennonite Maid."

COPYRIGHT, 1907, By McCURE, PHILLIPS & COMPANY.

"Have you a headache again this afternoon?" Daisy curiously inquired as the two girls, looking warm and tired from a long walk, sank upon the porch steps where he sat.

"Yes, I have it in my head somepin wonderful," he readily lied.

"I am surprised," declared Daisy, "that Mr. Morningstar would employ such an invalid as you are, Peter—as much on the make as he is."

"If farmhands wasn't so scarce to get," Peter answered, recklessly improvising Pennsylvania Dutch dialect, "he wouldn't keep me."

Mrs. Morningstar, who had stepped out to the porch bench to "pick over" a pan of gooseberries, just in time to hear this remark of Peter's, bent back her head and gave forth a loud laugh. "You bet he wouldn't!" she cried.

"Well, since you aren't working," Daisy suggested, "you can put in your time forgetting your headache by amusing me. Can you play euchre?"

"I don't play nothin' but hymn tunes."

"Oh, my gracious!" groaned Daisy. "Well, it isn't any of my business to butt in, but I should think," she observed reprovingly, "that you would at least make good your lost time, Pete, by helping Mrs. Morningstar to pick those berries. But I suppose," she added, taking on her air of acquiring useful information, "that to help a woman would not fall in with your ideas of manliness, would it? The Germans of rural Pennsylvania are just like the Germans of the fatherland in that respect at least—their lack of gallantry to women. I was in Germany three days last summer, and in all that time I never once saw a man chivalrously help a woman. And about here!" She rolled up her eyes expressively.

"Now," protested Pete, "I see a native help a woman with a basket this mornin'."

"You must have been mistaken, Peter," Daisy said incredulously.

"No, I ain't neither. I seen him when he done it."

"Was he a Pennsylvania German?" she asked skeptically.

"Dutch as snitz."

"I'd like to make a note of it," she said, gathering up her pencil and book. "Tell me, Peter, what were the circumstances and how did he help her?"

"She was his wife, and he helped her fasten a basket on her back to carry into the village."

Daisy dropped her notebook and looked at Peter severely, while Georgiana gazed at him pensively.

"I am disappointed in you, Peter," Daisy said reproachfully. "Miss Elbery and I both supposed that you had fine though undeveloped perceptions or intuitions, which, with a little encouragement, might reveal you to yourself."

She turned her back on him in disdain and began to help Mrs. Morningstar with her berries. "You're not worth while, Peter," she cast at him over her shoulder. "A man with such views is capable of other underhand dealings."

Georgiana sighed. "If my faith in human nature were not very large I should believe that to give even a suggestion of real chivalry to a born Pennsylvania German was almost a psychic impossibility. Frankly, Peter, isn't it?"

"It may be that kind of an impossibility," answered Peter in a tone of reluctance to commit himself, "since you say so. I ain't denyin' no such statements."

"But, Peter, I had hopes of you that day you so nicely picked up my hat-pin for me," said Georgiana in her patron-the-head tone of voice.

"Done it to see how the pin was made, that you could stick it through your skull and not kill yourself," he said, disclaiming any gallantry in the act.

Both the girls regarded him dubiously, but the stolidity of his face was impenetrable.

"Pete," said Daisy frankly, "sometimes I have a suspicion that you're foxy and are jollying us. Say, what dandy big gooseberries these are!" she exclaimed, with characteristic irreverence, eating more than she picked, to Mrs. Morningstar's evident discomfort.

"Daisy," said Georgiana in a tone that dropped Peter and Mrs. Morningstar out of the conversation, "did you get any news in your letter from Belle?"

"News! Well, I should say! Don't you think—the Civic club in its prospectus for next winter's work has gone and put me—me—down for a paper?"

Constitution was in her face and voice. Georgiana smiled.

"About what?"

"A theme on which I can't possibly ask uncle to write the paper for me, 'The Bad Effect Upon the Morals of the Community of the Autumn Displays of Underwear in the Department Store Windows, Especially the Figures of Women in Nightgowns, and the Advisability of the Civic Club's Requesting the Removal of Such Demoralizing Displays.' That's my subject."

"If they look at the matter from a higher plane," said Georgiana, "they would see that it is their own minds that need to be regenerated rather than the store windows."

"Let me take that down!" cried Daisy. "That shall be my opening sentence. I shall also suggest," she went on as she wrote, "as a preventive (or preventative, which is it?) of so many unhappy marriages, that in place of the exhibit of women in nightgowns they display a windowful of men in their pajamas. The preachers wouldn't have any jobs then!"

"You would better let me edit your paper before you stand up and read it to the club," Georgiana advised. "Does Belle write anything else?"

"Every one is out of town, she says, and there's nothing doing, and she says she can hardly wait until you come back and meet that new professor of psychology. Oh," exclaimed Daisy, with a little squeal of delight, "won't it be bully?"

Georgiana tried to look dignified, but only succeeded in looking interested and rather pleased.

"Isn't it perfectly killing, Georgie, the way every one seems to have settled things between you and that psychology man?"

Kinross leaned his back against a pillar of the porch and gave himself up to enjoying himself.

The young ladies meantime supposed their very language to be as incomprehensible to the farmer's wife and Pete as though they spoke a foreign tongue.

"Do you know," said Georgiana, her countenance softening with her pleasing reflections, "that even father has caught the infection of Dr. Kinross—well, popularity (I dislike the word). You know he is not apt to notice such things, but he remarked to me several times that he had never seen a young man so turn the heads of all the women—even the married women!"

"But, Georgiana," complained Daisy, "then I shall hate him, I know. I always do hate a man I'm expected to like and approve of. And a fellow who makes all the girls hysterical about him—oh, I know I'll scrap with him!"

"He won't be apt to give you a chance if all they say of him is true," smiled Georgiana.

"I shall force him to see that I despise him!"

WILD HUNT FOR HUSBANDS.

Chicago Widows Organizing Clubs, With Interesting List of Penalties.

Chicago widows in a wild hunt for husbands are organizing husband-catching clubs all over town. In this new scheme Cupid has avoided the mail order business which proved so disastrous to Marion Grey and which has involved Mrs. Jennie Scott in her matchmaking trade. This new soul mating is done in the open.

There is even to be a ban on love letters. Mrs. Katie Buhl, a young widow, is the originator of the new idea. While it's a widows' club, yet it is not. Bachelors, old maids and young maids are as welcome as the widows. Any unmarried man or woman of good reputation and references can join upon payment of the initiation fee—men, $1; women, 25 cents.

Mrs. Buhl's flat, with piano and plush upholstered furniture, is to be the Mecca of the mate seekers. A preacher living only three doors away has volunteered his services and makes a specialty of emergency cases.

A series of fines will add to the exchequer—men caught courting two girls, $5 fine; any woman declining a proposal, $2.50; man or woman misrepresenting age, color of hair, complexion or financial standing, $2.50; man caught wearing a wig, $10.

"Why did I organize the club?" said Mrs. Buhl. "Well, for two reasons. I have a big flat here, with lots of furniture, and think it will be possibly a means of revenue, and, to be sure, I hope to find a husband. I know lots of women in the same predicament as I am who haven't means of meeting eligible men in a social way."

35 cents gets a LARGE TRIAL BOT TLE of SANOL. It does wonders for the liver, kidneys, and bladder. A trial 35c bottle will convince you. Get Lytle's Drug store.

Meat is high, fruit scarce, so buy Mrs Austins famous pancake flour. A good hearty breakfast for little money.

Ladies, be sure and read Lytle's ad in today's Republican.

"Very amusing, indeed," thought

So she thinks she is going to bowl me over."

Georgiana laughed, then added: "Father himself told me that if he did not know Dr. Kinross he would think he must be a boulder, the way the girls and women make themselves silly about him. But the queer thing about it, father says, is that Dr. Kinross doesn't reciprocate their attentions at all and is rather a cynic—indeed, different to women—indeed, rather afraid of them."

"What a chump!" cried Daisy contemptuously. "That's worse yet. No, Georgie, I refuse to like that man. And if you don't jilt him I shall!"

"Jilt him? I trust my relations with him will be on a plane too high to admit of the possibility of any such vulgarity as jilting! A girl always knows it when a man is going to propose to her and—"

"Oh, no, she doesn't, Georgiana. I have often thought a man was going to propose to me—and he didn't."

"Father told me," continued Georgiana, scarcely heeding Daisy's flighty interjections, "that it was a comfort to know that I was not capable of the weakness of such infatuation and that my self poise would always save me from making that kind of a fool of myself."

"Well, I should think so!" exclaimed Daisy warmly. "Oh, won't he have to go way back and sit down when he falls in love with you! I can hardly wait until I see it!"

"Wouldn't it be—oh—well, amusing," Georgiana granted, clasping her shapely hands about her knees and looking dreamy, "if after his adamant front to all the other girls he should thaw to me?"

"Very amusing, indeed," thought

Kinross.) "Which of course he will," affirmed Daisy dogmatically, "for you're not like the other girls—you're on a higher plane."

"And so is he," said Georgiana lucidly, accepting Daisy's tribute complacently.

"Perhaps," Daisy reluctantly conceded, "but he must be perfectly horrid—a conceited prig—with all the girls flattering him so idiotically."

"We shall cure him of that," Georgiana smiled, her tongue suggesting a proprietorship which Kinross couldn't help thinking a little gratuitous.

"Father considers him able," Georgiana went on. "But," she added, "I have heard him say of him that he had 'a sarcastic tongue.' Now, sarcasm," she dogmatized, "is not the expression of a high plane of thought, and perhaps," she said earnestly, "I may be able to help him to see life more sweetly and sanely."

("Not if I have any influence with myself," was Kinross' mental comment.)

While they talked Daisy had now and then cast rather uneasy glances at Peter and Mrs. Morningstar, and she now leaned down and said something in a lowered voice to Georgiana.

Georgiana shook her head and answered aloud: "You need not be afraid. Their plane is so far below that of ourselves, Daisy, that they scarcely catch the sound of our voices when we speak, but if you feel any apprehensions"—Georgiana rose and shook out her skirts.

Daisy dropped her handful of gooseberries into Mrs. Morningstar's pan, and the two girls strolled away.

Kinross' eyes followed them thoughtfully, with a sense of pleasure in the symmetry of Miss Elbery's shapely shoulders, straight back and long, graceful movement.

"So she thinks she's going to bowl me over just as soon as I come within her range," he mused. "What will be the effect on her, I wonder, when she discovers she's been discussing me like that in my own presence? Their plane is so far below that of ourselves, Daisy, that they scarcely catch the sound of our voices when we speak."

A short laugh escaped him, which roused Mrs. Morningstar to speech.

AMUSEMENTS

The Vaudet showed an extra good subject last evening entitled "The Hold-up in Calabria," which was enjoyed by large crowds. Miss Wrenick sang the beautiful illustrated ballad, "When I Am Reminded of You." The same program will be repeated tonight.

The Grand theatre had an excellent program last evening consisting of two comic subjects, "Mourning for my Lost Wife," and "The Kitchen Skallions' Dream." The beautiful illustrated song "The Story of Home Sweet Home" was sung by Miss Iva Brown. The same program will be shown tonight.

There will be skating every afternoon and night at the Kramer rink the remainder of this week. Several new beginners are seen on the floor from night to night.

WILD HUNT FOR HUSBANDS.

Chicago Widows Organizing Clubs, With Interesting List of Penalties.

Chicago widows in a wild hunt for husbands are organizing husband-catching clubs all over town. In this new scheme Cupid has avoided the mail order business which proved so disastrous to Marion Grey and which has involved Mrs. Jennie Scott in her matchmaking trade. This new soul mating is done in the open.

There is even to be a ban on love letters. Mrs. Katie Buhl, a young widow, is the originator of the new idea. While it's a widows' club, yet it is not. Bachelors, old maids and young maids are as welcome as the widows. Any unmarried man or woman of good reputation and references can join upon payment of the initiation fee—men, $1; women, 25 cents.

Mrs. Buhl's flat, with piano and plush upholstered furniture, is to be the Mecca of the mate seekers. A preacher living only three doors away has volunteered his services and makes a specialty of emergency cases.

A series of fines will add to the exchequer—men caught courting two girls, $5 fine; any woman declining a proposal, $2.50; man or woman misrepresenting age, color of hair, complexion or financial standing, $2.50; man caught wearing a wig, $10.

"Why did I organize the club?" said Mrs. Buhl. "Well, for two reasons. I have a big flat here, with lots of furniture, and think it will be possibly a means of revenue, and, to be sure, I hope to find a husband. I know lots of women in the same predicament as I am who haven't means of meeting eligible men in a social way."

35 cents gets a LARGE TRIAL BOT TLE of SANOL. It does wonders for the liver, kidneys, and bladder. A trial 35c bottle will convince you. Get Lytle's Drug store.

Meat is high, fruit scarce, so buy Mrs Austins famous pancake flour. A good hearty breakfast for little money.

INCIDENT CLOSED

The Kaiser's Letter to Lord Tweedmouth to Be Kept Private.

RELIEVED OF SUSPICION

Lord of British Admiralty Held Blameless in the Matter of This Tempest in a Teapot.

Sensational Section of London Press Now Lecturing the Sedate Times For "Yellowness."

London, March 10.—The government has decided to keep private the personal letter written by Emperor William to Lord Tweedmouth, first lord of the admiralty, in which, it was charged by the London Times, his majesty attempted to influence legislation in the matter of the naval estimates of Great Britain. How this decision, which was announced in both houses of parliament last evening, will please the country, remains to be seen. Since A. J. Balfour, speaking for the opposition, endorsed the policy of the cabinet, it may be predicted that the public may consider the incident closed.

The remark made by Lord Rosebery that the nation was making itself ridiculous over this affair finds much support. The discussion was brief and dry. All the participants proceeded as if they were walking on eggs, for criticism of the ruler of another nation is a delicate business. The fact that Lord Tweedmouth consulted Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, before replying to Emperor William's letter, was the only new fact brought out, and it goes far to diminish the criticism of Lord Tweedmouth, because it relieves him of all suspicion of anything resembling disloyalty to the interests of the navy.

The character of Emperor William's letter is now generally understood. The spiciest passage is believed to be the reference to Lord Esher—that he had better occupy himself with drainpipes and keep his hands off the navy. Lord Esher was engaged in improving the drainage system of Windsor Castle when Emperor William was there recently. An amusing feature of the affair is that all the sensational newspapers of London are lecturing the Times for its sensationalism in exploiting the story.

DOINGS IN CONGRESS

Texas Senator's Speech Chief Feature of Day in Senate.

Washington, March 10.—Senator Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, a member of the finance committee which reported the Aldrich currency bill, held the attention of his colleagues and visitors who crowded the galleries of the senate, for over two hours Monday with a speech in opposition to that measure. When he concluded his address he was greeted by a storm of applause and senators from both sides of the chamber as well as many members of the house, crowded about him to extend their congratulations.

The senate also spent over an hour in debating the Frye bill providing that materials and supplies shipped from the United States for the Panama canal shall be transported only in American vessels.

Resolutions of sorrow upon the announcement of the death of Adolph Meyer of Louisiana were adopted, and at 4:30 o'clock the senate adjourned as a further mark of respect to his memory. The house was in session but a few minutes, adjourning upon announcement of Mr. Meyer's death.

Taken From Home and Lynched. Bristol, Va., March 10.—Swift vengeance was meted out to Jackson Presler, a young married man, who was taken from his home near Swords Creek, Russell county, last night, by a mob of 300 men, in spite of his wife's appeal, and hanged to a tree. George Call and John Mutter were murdered at a dance Saturday night, and it was charged that Presler was implicated in the killing. Thomas Gross and Fred Dye, young men, also charged with being implicated in the double killing, were arrested Sunday and hurried to the Lebanon jail, twenty miles away, in order to prevent lynching.

Didn't Know 'Twas Loaded. Lisbon, March 10.—A tragic accident carried the recent carnival celebrations at the village of Salsas, in Braganca province. A man and his two sons gave representations of the assassination of King Carlos. One of the sons, who was impersonating the assassin, shot and killed his father, who was made up as Franco, with a revolver which he believed was not loaded. The youth was grief-stricken over the tragedy and with difficulty was prevented from killing himself.

Burglars Make Big Haul. New York, March 10.—Loss of approximately $12,000 worth of silver plate, jewelry and precious stones through a theft by burglars at his home in the East side fashionable residence district, has been reported to the police by Edward S. Rapallo, an attorney. Practically the entire house was ransacked by the burglars, who left with their booty without disturbing the household.

JAIL BARS DOWN

Eugene Schmitz Committed No Offense, According to High Court.

San Francisco, March 10.—The state supreme court has refused a rehearing in the case of ex-Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, convicted of extortion from French restaurant proprietors and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. The opinion was unanimous. This sustains the decision of the district court of appeals, which decreed that the judgment and order of the lower court here sustained the demurrer to the indictment and ordered the discharge of the defendant on the ground that under the law no offense had been committed. Abraham Ruef, who was jointly indicted with Schmitz, pleaded guilty and his sentence is now pending. This decision of the supreme court also applies to him. It is believed that Schmitz will immediately apply for release from the county jail and Ruef may do likewise. The prosecution purposes to at once bring to trial some of the many other charges preferred against them.

The court sustained the appellate court in its decision that the indictment upon which Schmitz was convicted was defective in that it did not aver that Schmitz was mayor; that Ruef, his co-defendant, was a political boss, practically in control of the city; that as such they were in a position to exercise power and undue influence over the police commissioners, and that it did not show that Schmitz resorted to unlawful means in threatening to have liquor licenses withheld.

The decision practically nullifying Ruef's plea of guilty invalidates the remaining four extortion indictments against the former mayor and Ruef, and will enable Schmitz to gain his liberty on bail after eight months' confinement in the county jail.

WHY IT HAPPENED

Official Report on Cause of Quebec Bridge Disaster.

Ottawa, Ont., March 10.—The report of the royal commission on the collapse of the Quebec bridge, in which eighty lives were lost, has been presented to parliament. The commission finds that the collapse was due to a defect in design and that the parts of the bridge which first gave way were the lower chords in the anchor arm near the main pier. The design for the chords that failed was made by P. L. Szlapka, the designing engineer of the Phoenix Bridge company. This design was examined and officially approved by Theodore Cooper, consulting engineer of the Quebec Bridge and Railway company.

The failure cannot be attributed directly to any cause other than the errors in judgment on the part of these two engineers, the report declares.

One Contention Sustained. Washington, March 10.—Testimony was adduced before the senate committee on naval affairs which is investigating the criticisms of battleship construction, showing that the location of the armor belt of American battleships was too low.

Collided in Yards. Grand Rapids, Mich., March 10.—A Pere Marquette passenger train leaving here at 11:30 last night for Chicago, collided with an extra train near Wyoming yards. The fireman of the freight was killed and the engineer severely injured.

Judge Accused of Bribery. Lansing, Mich., March 10.—Sheriff Cline of this county last night arrested Probate Judge John W. Dunn of Arenas county, who is charged with offering a sum of money to State Senator Edinborough of Bay City to influence the latter's vote in the state legislature when the choice of a United States senator was pending in January, 1907.

Hits the Nail on the Head. Cincinnati, March 10.—No woman is physically fit to run an automobile, according to the statement of Mayor Markbreit in a recommendation of a city commission for the examination of all who seek to manage automobiles. The communication was suggested by the fact that last week a man was killed by an auto driven by a woman.

Wants to Open Books. Columbus, O., March 10.—Governor Harris has sent to the general assembly a special message urging that appropriations be made for the investigation of the books of the office of auditor of state and of all the other state offices, departments and institutions.

Flood Victim's Body Is Recovered. Winamac, Ind., March 10.—The body of Jacob C. Hoover, who was drowned in Indian Creek Friday, was found by one of the searching parties. Hoover was one of the most prosperous farmers in the county and was one of the oldest settlers.

A Cannon Anecdote. Speaker Cannon one evening stood in the receiving line at the Washington residence of Vice President Fairbanks passing kindly word and grip with friends as they came along, says the Chicago Post. At length his own daughter approached, and, drawing up his spare frame, he grasped her hand in formal fashion and inquired, with a well assumed disinterestedness, "Your name, please?" "Lydia Pinkham," replied Miss Cannon amiably. "Well, Lydia, my dear, we are well met," the speaker responded, "for I guess there's just about as much good in your remedies as there is in my presidential boom."

MONOGRAM VEST.

its Color is a Cross Between London Fog and Soiled Mortar.

The monogram waistcoat has arrived and been introduced at Chicago by Harry Avery, board of trade operator. Its design resembles the plat of a new suburb. Its color is a cross between a London fog and slightly soiled mortar. The buttons are miniature photographs of a woman who is represented to be the most beautiful in Brazil (South America, not Indiana). Mr. Avery does not know the woman's name, but John H. Wilkins, another board of trade man, who dared Mr. Avery to wear it, asserted that the senorita in question simply owns Rio de Janeiro.

The monogram, done in a fancy scroll of black tape, is about two inches above the lower left pocket. In order to exhibit the initials it is necessary to keep the left hand in the trousers pocket. Mr. Avery says that he believes it will become a fad.

To Fight For Squirrels.

Money was raised at the meeting of the League of American Sportsmen the other afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn in New York for the purpose of conducting a campaign to obtain laws to prohibit the shooting of gray squirrels. Unless this is done the squirrels will soon become extinct. The league also seeks to prohibit the killing of wild fowl on their way north as well as to prevent the use of the automatic shotgun. There are twelve state legislatures now in session, and it is the aim of the members to induce each of these to pass laws prohibiting these practices.

The local basket ball team is making great preparations to defeat Morristown, the strongest team in the State, next Friday night.

Mrs. Emma Wilkinson, of East Third street, who has been quite ill for several weeks will be taken to the home of her daughter in Cincinnati tomorrow.

John Kiplinger was here from Rush county yesterday. A rumor has it John may be a candidate for nomination as Prosecutor—Shelbyville News. You have another guess a coming.

For several years the farmers have said they have been unable to get the labor they need. Spring is near, and a look for employment in that quarter would be a benefit to all concerned.

Misses Mary Neutzenhelzer and Edith Hiner, of this city, are putting up a spirited race for coupons in the free "Seeing the Old World" tour planned by an Indianapolis newspaper.

The law on the statute books of this state forbidding the drinking of liquor on railroad cars, except in separate compartments with the door shut, is a good law. The tantalizing of the passenger who forgot his bottle must be stopped somehow.

Springtime is almost here, and soon the paper hangers, painters, carpenters and masons will be busy building and improving the homes of our people. Among the other ornamental improvements, fruit and shade trees should have the attention to home owners. Trees add more to home, in proportion to their cost than anything else you can buy.

BEST OF PROOF.

That Hyomei Will Cure All Forms of Catarrhal Diseases.

Testimonials could be printed by the thousand, many of them from Rushville and nearby towns, saying that Hyomei absolutely cures all catarrhal troubles. The best proof of its unusual curative powers is the guarantee that Johnson's drug store give with every outfit they sell. "Money back if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it."

Hyomei is not a secret remedy. Its formula is freely given to physicians who want to know what they are using when they prescribe Hyomei. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Law by Serial No. 1418.

There is no dangerous stomach druging when Hyomei is used. Its healing medication is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler, reaching every part of the air passages, destroying all catarrhal germs and curing the disease.

REMAINS SHIPPED FROM THE FAR WEST

Will be Followed by Parents who will Make Future Home Here

The remains of Henrietta, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. May, were shipped to this city yesterday evening from Montana, and taken to East Hill cemetery for burial.

The little child was exhumed after being buried two years and shipped back here, as the parents will follow and will make their future home in this county near New Salem, where they formerly lived.

Mrs. May is the daughter of Henry Wilson, of New Salem and has many friends in this city.

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

A young colored girl working in one of the bill families recently asked several of the neighbors to buy some trifle she had for sale, explaining to them that when she sold twenty at ten cents each she was going to receive a watch from a Chicago mail order house.

"Well, do you think it will run," said one benevolent lady as she passed out a dime for the "premium enticer."

"I don't know," said the little girl, catching hold of her waist and looking longingly at a vacant spot on it. "I don't care whether it will run or not, just so it will hang on."

Has Them All Beat

That's what a prominent Rush County farmer says of the

CASADAY HIGH LIFT GANG PLOW

Read the following letter

Rushville Ind., March 2d, 1908

South Bend Chilled Plow Co.,
South Bend, Indiana.

Dear Sirs:—

I bought one of your New Casaday High Lift Gang Plows of your agent, E. A. Lee, Rushville, in the spring of 1907 and liked it so well I have placed my order for another plow this year.

I considered this plow has them all beat in lightness of draft, convenience in handling and the quality of work it does. The team is at ease by being in perfect line of draft.

Can recommend it to all who contemplate buying a gang plow.

Respectfully,

S. M. POSTON.
